DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Twelve More Ballots Without a Choice of Candidate--Hancock in the Lead--A Delegate Claims the Right to Record His Own Vote --- Confusion --- Adjournment Till To-day.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 8, 1868.

The Convention was called to order at half past ten o'clock, Mr. Seymour in the Chair.

Missouri called for the reading of the names of the National Executive Committee, which was ordered.

Mr. Price, of Missouri, assumed the Chair.

Graham S. Fitch, of Indiana—Before proceeding with the call of the States, Indiana claims the right, heretofore conceded to other States, to present the name of her most talented citizen as a candidate for nomination by this Convention. The name is known, for he has already received a respectable vote here. That vote came, however, from another than his State, a tribute to one of the purest and best men in the nation. [Applause.] Circumstances, which occurred before the connection of his name with the nomination, would render, in the estimation of the delegation from his State, it proper and right that they should cast their vote a reasonable time for the distinguished candidate from Ohio. In the opinion of the delegation from Indiana that time has passed, and they are left to vote their own preference, and believe it to be the preference of the people. From their opinion a minority dissents, and deem their obligation to sustain Mr. Pendleton not yet discharged. The majority have no desire to control, and make no attempt to control, if there was the slightest probability of the attempt being successful, the action of that minority. We concede to them the best of motives—a desire merely to discharge a duty and trust. The citizen whose name we are about to present is a man of unimpeached character and unimpeached public record. He is a gentleman, sir, in all the relations of life. He is not, he never was, an office seeker; but whatever position has been bestowed on him by the partiality of the citizens of his own State, has been bestowed unsought and by acclamation. He is second to no man within our border in ability, in devotion to the Union, in attachment to the principles of the Democracy, and in firmness to the discharge of a duty. That citizen is Thomas A. Hendricks. (Applause.)

Mr. R. J. Reeves, of Indiana—On behalf of the minority of the delegation from the state of Indiana, I claim the privilege to state in a few words the reasons that govern our action. A majority of the delegation, following in the lead of the votes being cast for Mr. Hendricks—a gentleman that commands the highest respect and confidence in the State of Indiana, in all the positions he has held, and the one that now holds—have decided to cast their votes for him. Without impugning the honor of any man from Indiana, I was going to give reasons why I cannot go with them. On the 8th of January the Democracy of Indiana assembled at Indianapolis, in such an array of numbers and talent as never before assembled in that State, and they adopted a resolution expressing a preference for George H. Pendleton over the most determined and persistent opposition. In respect to that resolution, at the first meeting of the delegation in this city—and no gentlemen will controvert it—it was agreed the vote should be cast for Mr. Pendleton so long as there was a reasonable hope of his nomination. (Cheers.) A majority of the delegation have rescinded that resolution, as I suppose they have a right to do. I merely claim by the record, measuring it by my own conscientious obligations, for myself as a delegate from Indiana, so long as there is a reasonable hope of his nomination, to vote for George H. Pendleton. (Cheers.)

On each vote for Pendleton the galleries applauded vociferously. The same demonstration greeted Hendricks. Mississippi went for Pendleton on this ballot. The vote of New York for Church was cheered during the roll call. An Oregon delegate attempted to explain the vote the delegation would give, but was ruled out of order, as he admitted he had no new candidate, and he said he only wanted to renominate Pendleton. Tennessee gave 4½ for Pendleton. The result was as follows:

SEVENTH BALLOT.

English	6	Packer	26
Hancock	42½	Johnson	12½
Pendleton	137½	Doolittle	12
Parker	7	Hendricks	39½
Church	33	Blair	½

No choice.

Mr. Tilden asked leave for the New York delegation to retire for consultation, five members having asked it. Objection being made, the question was put to the Convention and decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Clymer, of Pa., moved a recess for fifteen minutes. Agreed to.

Time was called in fifteen minutes, and the Chair called the Convention to order. A rumor spread in the hall that New York will break on the next ballot, casting part, if not all, her vote for Hendricks. This is denied by some, who say that, while New York will leave Church to-day, unless he attracts support from other States, they are not yet ready to drop him. The excitement and anxiety is intense. The Clerk proceeded to call the roll on the eighth ballot, each vote being received with demonstrations of applause by the friends of the candidates in the galleries. Louisiana went over from Hancock to Pendleton. Mississippi also voted solid for Pendleton. At the conclusion of the roll-call, Mr. Tilden, by a unanimous vote of the delegation and consent of Church withdrew the latter and cast 33 for Hendricks. The following is the result of the

EIGHTH BALDOT.

English	6	A. Johnson	6
Hancock	28	Doolittle	12
Pendleton	156½	Hendricks	75
Parker	7	Blair	½
Packer	27

Whole number of votes cast, 327. No choice.

There having been occasional hissing in the galleries, the President announced that they would be cleared if it were repeated.

Pennsylvania moved for a recess of fifteen minutes, which was rejected.

Ten minutes, however, were spent in general consultation before the call of the roll was ordered on the ninth ballot, which resulted as follows:

NINTH BALLOT.

Pendleton	144	Doolittle	12
Parker	7	Hendricks	82½
Packer	26½	Blair	½
Johnson	5½

No choice.

The roll was then called on the tenth ballot. When Connecticut was called the Chairman announced the vote, three for English and three for Pendleton. A member of the delegation arose and denied this, insisting that the vote was six for English.

Mr. Eaton, of Connecticut, said he was Chairman of the delegation, and entitled to cast its vote.

Mr. Seymour ruled that the delegations must settle these questions among themselves, and ordered Connecticut to be passed until she should agree upon her vote. Subsequently her vote was cast, three for Hendricks and three for Pendleton.

The result of the ballot was announced as follows:

TENTH BALLOT.

Hancock	34	Blair	9
Pendleton	147½	Johnson	6
Parker	7	Doolittle	12
Packer	72½	Hendricks	82½

ELEVENTH BALLOT.

The roll was called at once on the eleventh ballot with the following result:

Pendleton	144½	Johnson	5½
Hancock	32½	Blair	¼
Parker	7	Doolittle	12½
Packer	26	Hendricks	89

Mr. Gibson, of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution proposing a nomination by acclamation.

Mr. Price being in the chair, ruled it out of order.

A motion to adjourn was made and lost.

The roll was called for the twelfth ballot, when California led off with half a vote for Chase. Then there was long and continued applause in the galleries. A scene of confusion ensued. Motions to clear the galleries were made by several delegates, mingled with hisses and cheers. Mississippi said excitedly that this applause was from citizens of New York in the galleries. A Wisconsin delegate opposed the clearing of the galleries. Some of these men had come thousands of miles whe were in the galleries—they were Democrats, and had a right to applaud when they pleased. [Great cheers.]

After some further confusion, they proceeded. The following is the result of the

TWELFTH BALLOT;

Hancock	30½	Pendleton	145½
Parker	7	Packer	26½
Johnson	4½	Doolittle	12½
Hendricks	99	Blair	½
McClellan	1	Chase	4

When McClellan received one vote from Tennessee, the galleries applauded loudly, but not so loudly as when Chase's name was uttered.

There was a motion made for a recess of fifteen minutes.

Mr. Vallandigham moved it be for five minutes. Agreed to.

During the recess Daniel W. Voorhees, of Indiana, appearing on the platform, was loudly called for. Mr. Voorhees came forward, but said it would be so manifestly improper in him to address the audience at this time, that he only stood before them to bow his acknowledgements and no more.

The following is the result of the

THIRTEENTH BALLOT.

Hancock	48½	Doolittle	13½
Pendleton	134½	Hendricks	81
Parker	7	Blair	½
Packer	26	Frank'n Pierce	1
Johnson	4	Chase	½

No choice.

The following were among the changes on this ballot: North Carolina gave her 9 for Hancock instead of Pendleton. Virginia changed solidly to Hancock instead of 9½ for Pendleton, as before.

FOURTEENTH BALLOT.

Hancock	56	Pendleton	130
Parker	7	Packer	25
Doolittle	13	Hendricks	84½
Chase	½	Hoffman	3

Among the changes on this ballot were Nebraska, who went from Pendleton to Hendricks; Tennessee dropped Johnson and gave Pendleton 5½, Hendricks 4.

FIFTEENTH BALLOT.

Hancock	70½	Andrew Johnson	7½
Pendleton	129½	Doolittle	12
Parker	7	Hendricks	82

The roll was called for the sixteenth ballot. Arkansas changed five votes from Pendleton to Hancock; Georgia gave 2½ for Pendleton and 6½ for the man who, when the war was over, laid his sword on the altar of civil law, [great cheering]; Louisiana changed to Hancock; Mississippi did the same, [cheers]; Missouri gave Hancock, additional to its previous vote; Maryland gave him 5¼, which was greeted with cheers. The following is the result of the

SIXTEENTH BALLOT.

Hancock	113½	Johnson	5½
Pendleton	107½	Doolittle	12
Parker	7	Hendricks	70½

The Kentucky delegation retired for consultation.

Mr. Seymour resumed the Chair.

Michigan moved a recess until 5 o'clock. Lost.

New York asked leave to retire for consultation. The Chair announced that as Kentucky, Illinois and New York all desired to retire for consultation, business would be suspended until their return. Objection being made, the Chair said allowance must be made for the exhaustion of the Secretaries, and he therefore announced a ten minutes recess.

There is a wide-spread opinion that Hancock will be nominated on the next ballot.

Mr. Tilden, of New York, said the Convention had reached a point when careful conference and consultation between delegates is important, and he moved an adjournment as soon as the pending ballot should be decided.

Mr. Vallandigham seconded the motion to adjourn. [Cries of No! No! Yes! Yes!] The vote on adjournment was demanded by States, but the roll call was suspended until the 17th ballot should be closed. Kentucky came in with five for Hancock and five for Pendleton. Following is the result of the SEVENTEENTH BALLOT.

Hancock	137½	Pendleton	70½
Parker	7	Johnson	6
Doolittle	12	Hendricks	70
Chase	½	Hoffman	3

The question was taken on adjournment, which was lost—yeas 162½, nays 170½.

A motion by New Jersey for recess to seven o'clock was made and lost.

The roll was then called on the eighteenth ballot.

Florida gave her three to Hancock.

When Illinois was called, Mr. Richardson said his delegation was instructed to vote as a unit. On the last ballot he consented to divide the vote, but on this he should cast the vote as a unit, though against his opinion, for Hendricks.

A delegate from Illinois demanding to be recorded for Mr. Pendleton, Mr. Richardson withdrew the vote he had cast for the present.

On this ballot New Jersey gave Hancock three, Pendleton one-half, Parker three and a half. Tennessee cast her ten for Johnson, (ever faithful to one who was ever faithful to his country.) West Virginia gave Hendricks five. Illinois announced her vote, sixteen, for Hendricks, One of her delegates again protested that his vote should be recorded for Pendleton. Another delegate wanted his vote recorded, "From Second District of Illinois, for A. Johnson."

The Chair, Mr. Price, said by order of the Convention, the Chairman of each delegation was authorized to speak for the State. [Great confusion.] The Chair proceeded to announce the vote: Hancock, 144½; Pendleton, 86½; Parker, 8½; Johnson 10; Doolittle, 12; Hendricks, 87; Hoffman, 2.

Mr. Seymour took the chair.

Mr. Mallory, of Illinois—Mr. President, I have a proposition to make—a motion to submit to this Convention. My motion is this, that every gentleman who has credentials entitling him to a seat on this floor shall be entitled to represent by vote and voice the district that in part sent him here. [Applause, and cries of "take your seat" and "order."]

The President—The delegates must all take their seats. The gentleman from Illinois, Mr. Mallory, if the Chair understands his motion, moves that each delegate shall have a right to vote as he sees fit on the nominations. The rule already adopted by the Convention is that when nominations are made each delegation is to vote through its Chairman. That is now the rule of the Convention. The motion, therefore, of the gentleman from Illinois, is a motion to change the rules of the Convention and the order of its proceedings. This can be only upon one day's notice, if any objections are made to such change. More than that, the Chair will state it understands, and I think in every Convention I have attended, when the question has been raised to change the votes of the delegates, it has always been decided that each delegation had a right to decide for itself how it would act as a whole. That was the decision of the Convention which met in Baltimore.

A delegate from California objected to the proposed change.

Mr. Mallory—Do I understand the Chair then to decide that I, who differ from the expressed vote of the Chairman of the Illinois delegation, must permit his vote to be taken and not mine?

The President—The rule already adopted by the Convention will be read by the Secretary, whose voice is so much clearer than my own, that the Convention will better understand than if I stated it.

Mr. Bayard, of Delaware—I understand the rule of the Convention to be that the Chairman is to announce the vote of each delegation.

The President—It is.

Mr. Bayard—Does that involve the principle that individual members are to be here as mere agents of the majority and not of the people they represent? I think not. I suppose this to be a deliberative body, as much so as the House of Representatives. If a majority of the members of the House of Representatives should undertake to control the individual opinions of the Representatives, or a majority of a delegation should undertake here to control the individual opinion of any member of this Convention, such delegation is no longer a representative of the sentiment of the people. If such a principle is to govern the action of such delegation, it would be nothing more than a mode by which a faction and personal combination may overrule public sentiment.

The clerk read the rule as follows:

Resolved, That in casting their votes for President and Vice President each Chairman of each delegation shall rise in his place and name how the delegation votes.

Mr. Clymer—Mr. President: This Convention adopted the rules which governed the Convention at Chicago. That Convention adopted the rules of the Convention which sat at Charleston and at Baltimore. At Charleston there was a rule reported for the government of the Convention upon this subject, which was adopted by the Convention, and that rule is this: "That in any State which has not provided or directed by its State Convention how its vote shall be given, the Convention will recognize the right of each delegate to cast his individual vote." I have thought it my duty to bring to the knowledge of the President of the Convention this rule.

Mr. Mallory—Mr. President, I surrendered the floor only out of compliment to the gentleman from Pennsylvania, and now claim my right to be heard. (Cries of "order," "order," and other attempts to prevent the delegate from being heard.)

The President—The clerk will first read the rule submitted from Pennsylvania.

The clerk again read the rule just read by Mr. Clymer.

Mr. Mallory—Mr. President, under that rule, which vindicates the right of every district in this broad country to give an expression though its delegates sent here of its wishes in regard to nominations made, and in defiance of the attempt of the chairman of the Illinois delegation to gag my district, I give one-half vote for the ablest defender of the Constitution, for the man who has done more to vindicate the unity of our government and the policy and sovereignty of its States under the Constitution of our country, than any other living man. I need not say, gentlemen and Mr. Chairman, that I vote for Andrew Johnson. (Great applause.)

The President—The Chair wishes to inquire of the Chairman of the Illinois delegation what instruction, if any, was given to that delegation by the State Convention?

Mr. Richardson, Illinois—The Convention of Illinois instructed her delegates to vote as a unit. They instructed them to vote for Mr. Pendleton. A majority of the delegation, not in accordance with my wish, overthrowing that wish of mine, chose to go for another distinguished gentleman. I thought it my duty—I still think it was my duty—to cast her whole vote for that other gentleman. I have disregarded—[The speaker pointed to Mr. Mallory, of the Illinois delegation.) [Laughter.]

Mr. Mallory—Mr. President—

The President—I beg the gentleman from Illinois to take his seat and allow the Convention to proceed to another vote, and then, if he has any objection to make, it will come up in order.

Mr. Abbott, Mass.—I move that this Convention now adjourn.

A vote was taken on the motion to adjourn, and it was carried.

The President then announced, at five minutes past four, that the Convention stood adjourned until Thursday morning at ten o'clock.

Washington Topics and Gossip.

The Republican Congressional Executive Committee have advices of gigantic frauds in the Mississippi election, and it is believed that the State may yet be Republican.

The Conference Committee on the various appropriations have still many points to settle. They have agreed to let the offices of Second Assistant Secretary of State and Solicitor of the Navy Department remain.

Senator Sherman thinks that Congress will adjourn on the 20th.

Mr. Johnson's friends have given up all hope of his nomination in New York. Mr. Chase is chagrined at the fact that his name was not even mentioned Tuesday, but thinks he will be brought forward yet as the great colescent candidate. Hendricks and Hancock have assurances that they will be nominated.

The Judiciary Committee of the Senate agreed to report favorably on Evarts as Attorney General. It is thought this places his confirmation beyond doubt.

Mr. Bowen, the new Republican Mayor of Washington, is turning out all the old rebel office holders under his control.

Information has been received here that members of Congress elect from Georgia will start immediately for Washington.

Those best informed say that both Chase and Johnson were confident of receiving the Democratic nomination for the Presidency.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, July 8.—The Daily News has a long editorial this morning on the dispatch relative to the Fenians recently sent by Mr. Seward to Mr. Moran, First Secretary of the American Legation, in this city. The News says: "This dispatch is discourteous and unfriendly to the English nation. We have no hesitation in denying that it expresses the views of the enlightened American, whom we know will repudiate the irritating notes of Secretary Seward. The people of the United States will be glad to know that both the English people and the English government will treat such dispatches as a disguised trick, calculated to effect the coming elections."

DUBLIN, July 8.—John Bright has arrived on a visit to George Peabody. On reaching Limerick he was received in an enthusiastic manner by the people of that city.

SPAIN.

LONDON, July 8.—Dispatches from Madrid indicate the renewal of serious political trouble in Spain. General Dulee, formerly Captain General of Cuba, General Zerrano, Duke De La Torrey and five other Generals have been placed under arrest and warrants have been sent out for the arrest of three other General officers of high rank. It was supposed a dangerous and wide-spread conspiracy had been discovered and these arrests were the result.

To-day additional advices represent that a movement had been preconcerted among some leading officers of the army, which had for its object the placing of Don Antonia, the Duke de Montpensier, at the head of the Government. The Duke, who is a brother-in-law to the Queen, has been requested to leave the country. Additional arrests continue to be made in all parts of Spain of parties implicated in the intrigue, which is believed to have been effectually baffled by the prompt action of the Government.

Republican State Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SYRACUSE, July 8, 1868.

The Republican State Convention met to-day. Henry Smith, of Albany, was chosen temporary chairman. It was again called to order at twenty minutes before two, Vice President Price, of Missouri, in the chair, but it was found not half the delegates had yet returned to the Hall.

At the afternoon session, General John Cochrane was made permanent President. An informal ballot for candidate for Governor resulted: John A. Griswold, 247; Horace Greeley, 95; Stewart L. Woodford, 46.

The nomination of Griswold was made unanimous.

Marshal O. Roberts and Henry R. Selden were nominated electors at large.

A. B. Cornell was nominated for Lieutenant Governor; Alex. Barclay, for Canal Commissioner; Henry A. Barnum, for State Prison Inspector, and Campbell H. Young, for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

A platform was adopted endorsing the Congressional work of reconstruction, welcoming back to the Union the brothers of the South who have endorsed impartial suffrage, giving thanks to the soldiers and sailors and pledging the prompt payment of their bounties and the assignment of homesteads to them, demanding from the General Government a pure and economical administration of affairs, the lessening of taxation, prompt collection of revenue, reduction of the army and navy, a less prodigal management of the public lands, as rapid return to specie payment as is consistent with the burdens now resting upon us, and such development of commercial, manufacturing, agricultural and mining interests as will enable us to increase our public wealth, and thus more easily pay the National debt. They also state that National honor demands the payment of National obligations according to their letter and spirit, welcome immigration, and believe in protection of the rights of naturalized citizens in all parts of the world, endorse Grant and Colfax, and urge economical management of the canal and reform of all abuses therein.

A full list of electors was nominated and a State Committee appointed for the ensuing year.

Over twenty millions of stock was represented, and the vote was unanimous. At a subsequent meeting of the new Board of Directors the officers of the past year were unanimously re-elected, as follows: Wm. Orton, President; Hiram Sibley, N. Green, B. R. Alpred, Vice Presidents; O. H. Palmer, Secretary and Treasurer.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Latest Gossip—Pendleton Directs the Withdrawal of His Name—Chase Swallows the Platform and His Name Will be Presented To-Day by New York—John Morrissey Bets $10,000 the Ticket Will be Chase and Hancock—Seymour Not Yet Abandoned—Bare Possibility of McClellan's Nomination.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, July 8, 1868.

It is known a dispatch has been received by the Ohio delegation from Mr. Pendleton, directing the withdrawal of his name as a candidate before the Democrtic Convention, and various reports as to its purport and intentions of his supporters are in circulation. While it may be regarded as certain that his name will be dropped early to-morrow, some say the Pendleton men will then propose the name of Seymour and press it with vigor.

Few think they will in any event support any Western man for the Presidency, as such a course would prejudice Pendleton's chances in '72, while there is a very prevalent impression that their aid will be given to English or some other prominent Eastern candidate.

A dispatch from Mr. Chase having been received, to the effect that he can stand on the platform adopted yesterday, a meeting of the New York delegation was held this evening, at which it was agreed by a majority to start the name of the Chief Justice to-morrow.

The tremendous applause with which his name was received when proposed by California to-day, indicates a very large number of votes when his name is formally put in nomination, and his chances still look extremely favorable.

It is believed that both Hancock and Hendricks have about, if not quite, reached the maximum of votes they can command for the Presidency, though both apparently have a good look for the Vice Presidency.

It is stated John Morrissey has made a bet of $10,000 that the ticket will be Chase and Hancock.

Notwithstanding the repeated and persistent declination by Seymour, it does not seem he is yet entirely out of the field, and should Pendleton, as indicated above, go strongly for him, the nomination may yet be given to New York.

No other names than Chase and Seymour are much talked of to-night, though some friends of Hancock believe he has still a chance.

Blair's friends may bring him out, but he does not appear like a winner.

The single vote given to McClellan to-day by Tennessee has suggested the bare possibility of his nomination; but though he has many warm friends, it seems too slight to be seriously thought of.

The Convention is hardly likely to adjourn before Saturday.

THE SOUTHERN STATES.

The Georgia Legislature.

ATLANTA, GA., July 8.—In the Senate to-day a memorial was presented concerning Mr. Winn, Democrat, and others holding seats, as alleged, contrary to the spirit of of the Omnibus bill.

Mr. Chandler moved to strike out the words "and others," which was objected to by a Republican.

Mr. Chandler offered a resolution against the eligibility of Radical members.

Mr. Bradley, a negro, said he was astonished that any member should question the eligibility of members on account of color. He cared not whether it emanated from the brain of Joe Brown, Jeff. Davis, or the spiritual brain of God himself, and quoted the second paragraph of the bill of rights in support of his argument. He was ready to purge the Senate of traitors and felons, and reminded the Senate that the first blow struck for freedom was struck by a negro. He closed by saying that unless the race were part and parcel of the State militia, in less than ten years there would be another rebellion, exceeding in magnitude and more successful than the last.

In the House the Committee appointed to wait on the Governor reported he would communicate as soon as he had a conference with Gen. Meade.

Louisiana Legislature—Election of U. S. Senators—Excluded Democratic Members Ask the Interference of the Commanding General.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 8,—The Legislature to-day went into joint session and elected W. P. Kellogg to the United States Senate for the long term, and John S. Harris for the short term,

A committee of Democrats, members of both Houses, presented a communication to General Buchanan, reciting that the presiding officers of both Houses had proceeded, in violation of the State Constitution, instructions of the General of the Army and the General commanding the Department, in excluding members entitled to seats. They appeal on behalf of the people of Louisiana for redress, and ask the Military Commander, by virtue of his authority, to place said excluded members in their seats. General Buchanan replies that while, in his opinion, these proceedings are illegal, unjust, oppressive, and known to be in opposition to the will of the General-in-Chief, yet he believes the interest of law and of the people in this crisis will not be best subserved by forcibly interfering to correct the abuses complained of, and says he will forward their communication, with a copy of his letter, to General Grant and to the Chairman of the Reconstruction Committee of Congress.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

An evening session was ordered for Friday to consider the bill reducing the army.

The House considered the Senate amendments to the sundry civil expenses appropriation bills, most of which were nonconcurred, and a Conference Committee asked.

The House then took up the bill from the the Committee on Reconstruction for the removal of political disabilities from certain persons. The name of Charles W. Helm, of Leavenworth, was struck out. Among those inserted was Edward Cropland, of Kentucky. The bill passed by the necessary two-thirds vote.

Mr. GARFIELD stated the Military Committee would on Friday evening report a bill reducing the army nearly one-half. He also reported a bill establishing rules and regulations for the government of the army.

The bill to transfer to the Interior Department certain powers and duties now exercised by the Secretary of the Treasury in connection with Indian affairs was passed.

The bill for the relief of the loyal Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians, directing the Secretary of the Interior to adopt and ratify the compromise entered into between them on the 20th and 21st of April, 1868, and to pay $109,742 to the Choctaw claimants, and $150,000 to the Chickasaw claimants, out of money held in trust for these nations, gave rise to a discussion.

Mr. SHANKS denounced the measure as a combination against the Indians, who should be allowed a larger sum. He moved to increase the amount to the Chickasaws.

Finally the previous question was moved and seconded, but no vote was taken.

Mr. SCHENCK, from the Ways and Means Committee, reported a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to remit the duties on two meridian circles imported for the Observatory connected with the Chicago University, which passed.

Cholera at Havana—The Telegraph Cable Parted.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, July 8.—The cholera in this island continues unabated.

The new submarine cable has parted from the buoys. The Narva, assisted by the United States steamer Gettysburg, is grappling for it.

Heavy Thunder Storm.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—The heaviest thunder and lightning storm ever experienced in San Francisco prevailed yesterday. Several telegraph poles were destroyed by lightning between San Jose and this city. All telegraphic communication was suspended during the storm.

ODE.

The following original ode for the Fourth of July celebration in Boston was written by Dr. T. W. Parsons:

MOTTO.—————beati
Pacifici che son senz' ira mala.—Purgatorio.

TRANSLATION.—Blest are the passionless—the men of peace.

Dependent men declayed, one day,
When rebel Freedom ruled the hour,
That he no monarch would obey,
Save One—the Eternal Sov'reign Pow'r.

Forth from that hour the human race—
Not Freedom's chosen tribe alone—
Have worn more angel in their face,
And to more kingly stature grown.

What makes the glory of the year?
What gives the glow to every eye?
Midsummer's mouth—to freemen dear,
The imperial mouth—sublime July!

The rains are o'er, Nature's drought
Is blessing now—all clouds are gone;
Antares mildly treads the South,
Now comes our happy harvest on.

Behold your harvest, souls of might!
Who to the desert came for peace!
Look down from where you sit in light,
Let not in heaven your triumph cease.

Fathers! Our Father still is King:
The hallowed name to whom we pray;
That years to perfect fruit may bring
Your good seed sown by Pilgrim's bay.

—A political discussion is announced to take place in Harrisburg between several negro citizens.

—A one armed hero in Cleveland rescued a little girl from drowning by plunging into the water after her.

—At the recent wedding of the daughter of a New York banker, the house was vocal with innumerable canaries.

—For arguing the constitutionality of the Legal Tender Act David Dudley Field received three thousand dollars.

—The Scranton (Pa.) Iron Company during the past year turned out 35,000 tons of rails rnd other finished iron.

—While Mrs. Van Orman, of Cleveland, was receiving guests at a tin wedding on Tuesday, she fell dead on the floor.

—McCoole and Coburn were discharged from prison on Monday. They will have to make a hit somewhere to make up for lost time.

—On the 4th of July six thousand three hundred and twenty-one excursionists passed over the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad.

—It is said that Brigham Young has a contract for grading on the Union Pacific Railroad, which is expected by its friends to reach Salt Lake by Christmas.

—Hon. W. H. Logan, a brother of Gen. John A. Logan, died at Murphrysboro, Jackson county, Ill., on Sunday last. Gen. Logan was present at his death.

—Wieland, the novelist, must have been a sublime lover. He was perfectly convinced that love is born with the first sigh, and expires in a certain degree with the first kiss.

—A German in Cincinnati ate plentifully of ice cream and afterwards took a long stand in the sun. He went crazy from sunstroke and endeavored to shoot every person in his way. He died.

—One pound of ham started from New York for the Kansas Indians weighs one thousand pounds when it reaches its destination, if the vouchers of Government contractors can be relied upon.

—The society for the prevention of gambling in New York is doing much good work. Fifty clerks engaged at faro were reported to their employers last week. Although the object is creditable the means employed seem mean and disreputable.

—A French journalist writes the following geographical paragraph: Paris chatters, Munich drinks, Marseilles sings, Rome prays, Lyons works, Leipsig reads, Madrid smokes, Manchester packs, Hanover steeps, Edinburgh dreams and Constantinople bathes.

—Governor Pease, of Texas, opposes the proposition to divide it into three States. He says the population is only $800,000, and that the people in their present impoverished condition, ought not to be subjected to the expense of maintaining three governments.

—Another wild man has been found, this time on the Manitou Islands, in Lake Michigan. He is eight feet tall, covered with hair, has a beard hanging down to his waist, and an "intellectual brow." There is a story that some twenty years ago a woman lost a child of four years on the island, and this is supposed to be the boy grown up.

—The Paris artist, Lefebre, painted a portrait for an American belle, which did not please her ladyship. She threw it on his hands and refused to again pose. The artist had his revenge, for in lounging through the salons the other day, she was unutterably shocked to recognize in the far-famed "Etude de Femme" her own face. Scandal is busy, and those who know her ask, "did she pose?" The lady is justly indignant and her friends propose buying the picture at great cost to assuage her anger.

—Recent statistics from the Treasury Department develop the fact that the usual fees of lawyers retained by the Government on important cases range from three to seven thousand dollars. Some of the aggregates of fees paid to lawyers are as follows: Chas. Eames, Washington, in 1866 and 1867, $8,500; W. M. Evarts, New York, 1864 to 1867, $15,000; Caleb Cushing, Washington, 1866 to 1867, $18,000; G. P. Lowry, New York, 1866 to 1867, $16,500; Hughes, Denver & Peck, Washington, 1865 to 1867, $45,000.

—The New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer thus writes: Have you any interest in knowing the prices that the daily and weekly papers here pay for outside matter? The rates vary much on account of the writings and the length of the columns; but are as follows: Tribune (the columns contain more words than those of any other journal) $8 to 10, whether leaded brevier or solid nonpareil; Herald $6 to 10; Times $6 to 10; World, $5 to 8; Evening Post, $10; Sun, $5; Evening Mail, $5; Commercial Advertiser, $7 to 8. Of the weeklies, the Ledger pays $10; Independent, $5 to 10; Round Table, $5 to 7; Nation, $5 to 6; Citizen, $5 to 6; Harper's Weekly, $10; Bazar, $10; Frank Leslie, $2 to 3, and the other weeklies as nearly nothing as they can calculate. Both the dailies and weeklies have much more matter than they can use, and the only way any one can live by his pen in New York, is to write for all of the publications that pay for outside matter. I know several writers who contribute regularly to fifteen or twenty publications, and do not work very hard, nor I might add, make any vast amount of money, either. Look in your heart and write! may be very good counsel. But looking in your inkstand and doing the same thing, is not advisable.

Who Made the Democratic Platform.

The Convention Committee appointed to draft a platform and resolutions, embrace the following: Wade Hampton, ex-rebel General of South Carolina, who was an original secessionist, raised one of the first Palmetto regiments, devoted his large fortune to the "sacred cause," fired the Southern heart on numerous occasions by publicly declaring that the Yankees were simply endeavoring to make slaves of the chivalry, and who, after fighting through the war, refused to submit, after Joe Johnson, his superior, had surrendered, but ran away with a troop of horse to South Carolina; William Preston, rebel General of Kentucky, who had not so much of an excuse for treason as State secession; E. Barksdale, rebel General of Mississippi; Charles C. Langdon, who, through the columns of the Mobile Advertiser, did very much to precipitate the revolution in Alabama, and T. A. Bocock, Speaker of the Virginia rebel House of Representatives. The Committee, likewise, includes such notorious Copperheads as Jas. A. Bayard, of Delaware; Stephen Archer, of Maryland, and J. E. McDonald, of Indiana.

Loyal men of the country, how do you enjoy the spectacle? Those of you who are now disposed to act with the Democracy, how do you relish the prospect of having such characters as the above draw up a platform and declaration of principles for you? War Democrats, who abandoned the peace organization during the rebellion, can you now believe that the organization sympathizes any less with the rebellion than it did four years ago?—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

The "Bloated Bondholders."

The Sub-Treasury in Wall street is now engaged in paying off the July gold interest on the five-twenty bonds, and the New York Times thinks the lines of men and women who may be seen daily waiting for their interest forms an instructive spectacle for the repudiating Pendletonians. They will observe how small a proportion of the bondholders, after all, look any ways bloated, and how few of them drive after their interest in gorgeous carriages, and how very few need a cart to convey their gold to their homes. They will observe what a very large number of them have but one or two coupons from bonds of a small denomination—say from $500 or $1,000 bonds, and they will discover how many of them receive from $60 to $120 as their half yearly income from their small investments. They will notice how plainly attired most of them are, and how promptly they depart after getting the small sums due, to attend to the pressing duties of life. If the repudiating Pendletonian should take the trouble to get acquainted with a few of them, he would probably find that they happened to be small traders, or mechanics, or clerks, or workingmen, or professional people, who had invested their scanty savings in the Government funds at a time when the country was in pressing need of their assistance. After such a view of the bloated bondholders, and such an idea of people who hold the greater part of the National securities, the Pendletonian Democracy would perhaps come to wiser and honester conclusions.

Horrible Scene at an Execution in North Carolina.

At Salisbury, North Carolina, Friday, a man named Rufus Ludwick, convicted at the fall term of the Rowan Superior Court for the murder of his wife, paid the extreme penalty of the law. The Old North State says of his conduct on the scaffold: Upon the very threshold of eternity, in the midst of a solemn, fervent and eloquent prayer offered up in his behalf by Mr. Rumple, which moved a large part of the vast audience to tears, he coolly turned around to a by-stander and asked him for a chew of tobacco. Afterwards, while a hymn was being sung for his edification, he endeavored to engage in a very trivial conversation with those around who were near him. At length the Sheriff intimated to the culprit that the time had come. At this notification he made an effort to jump from the scaffold and escape. This was prevented by the Sheriff's officers, who surrounded him, but he had to be hanged by main force. It required some half dozen persons to hold him while he was being pinioned and the rope adjusted about his neck. Then he refused to stand up, and he was in a half-lying, half-sitting posture when the fatal drop fell and launched his soul into eternity. He denied his guilt to the last.

RIVER NEWS.

Considerable rain fell again yesterday, and if all the rain that has fallen within the last few days does not produce a swell of some magnitude, we will be somewhat surprised. And what makes the case still stronger, lies in the fact that it is not confined to this immediate vicinity; advices from nearly every quarter report rain, and we expect to see a rise in both the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers.

The Delaware has arrived at Cincinnati, and the America has doubtless reached there before this. The Camelia passed Louisville en route for St. Louis on Monday.

The river was rising last evening, with twenty-eight inches in the channel, by the Monongahela marks.

—The St. Louis Democrat says: A good deal of sickness is prevailing on Missouri river boats among the officers. Three officers of two Omaha boats, which arrived since Saturday night, had severe attacks of a complaint closely resembling cholera, if it was not the fell disease, and one of them was so severly visited that he considered himself about gone up, but didn't go up.

—Cleveland, Ohio, is building an iron steamer for lake navigation. Her dimensions are as follows: Length over all 81 feet; breadth of beam 15 feet; depth of hold 5 feet. She will have side wheels, and her propelling power will consist of two engines of 25 horse power each. They will bo provided with Holloway's patent metalic packing rings. She will have one tubular boiler. Her frames are of two inch angle iron, and her plating is three sixteenths of an inch thick.

—The St. Joe Union learns from a gentlemen who came down on the Yorktown, that the boat ran into an immense herd of buffaloes that were swimming the river about fifty miles above the mouth of the Yellowstone, two of which were killed. They made no attempt to avoid the steamer, frequently running against it. The Benton also killed two buffaloes on the down trip and captured a couple of calves, which she brought down with her. Most of the mountain boats have reported a great scarcity of buffaloes this season.

—The Cincinnati Commercial of Tuesday says: The Edinburgh will only go to Pomeroy during the present low water.....The Maggie Hays and Delaware will remain here for the present.....Capt. Lew Kates left for Louisville on the mailboat last evening.....The Charleston, with two barges of iron in tow, arrived from Parkesburg last evening.....Capt. Morgan has chartered the Lawrence to take the place of the St. James in the Maysville trade during low water.....James Maguire, a striker on the snag-boat S. H. Long, died on the boat on the 27th of June, of conjestion of the heart. It is supposed that he lived in Albany..... The Wild Duck has shipped the bulk of her freight for Pittsburgh—150 tuns—by rail to that point. The Wild Duck will, of course, remain here until there is more water.

—A St. Louis telegram under date of Monday says: Business dull. River about stationary, with 5½ feet to Keokuk. Ida Rees and Ben Johnson are in from Upper Missouri. An Omaha dispatch of yesterday says the river is rising slowly. Importer, from Fort Benton, had arrived; Miner, from St. Louis for Fort Benton, passed up. The arrivals at this port Saturday and Sunday comprise three from the Mississippi, three from the Missouri, and three from the Illinois Rivers. Departures Saturday, four for Upper Mississippi, two for Missouri and one for Illinois Rivers. The Henry Adkins leaves for Omaha to-day. The Ruth is loading for New Orleans; Phil. Sheridan leaves for St. Paul, and Marble City for Memphis, this afternoon. Frenchman's Bar, in sight of St. Paul, has become a formidable obstacle. The Illinois is steadily drying up, but not yet down to the famous catfish stage. The Olive Branch, Lady Gay, Great Republic and Big Horn have laid up on the opposite side of the river.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended, it is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, facteries, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, right to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

BOYS IN BLUE! Don't fail to read the address just issued by the Republican Soldiers' State Central Committee. It tells the story, both of peril and of duty, in words of truth and force which could not well be stronger.

THE fiscal year ending June 30th has made larger returns to the Treasury than were anticipated on the estimates of last Autumn. The excess is $2,000,000 on customs, $3,000,000 from internal taxes, and about the same from miscellaneous sources.

WE learn, from the State Guard, that the Commissioners who have been charged with the duty of selecting a site for the Northern Insane Asylum, have fixed on a location in the vicinity of Danville. It is to be presumed that the choice has been wisely made and that it will be generally approved.

THE New York Times of the 6th pronounces the nomination of CHASE impossible, upon a platform moulded to suit the financial opinions of PENDLETON or the subversive and revolutionary sentiments of BLAIR. The platform is before the people; it is moulded precisely in that direction, and Mr. CHASE has found no difficulty in accepting it.

THE nomination of Hon. JOHN COVODE for re-election to Congress in the XXIst District meets with the hearty endorsement of the constituents he has so faithfully served for several terms. Mr. COVODE is a man of strict integrity, shrewd judgment and indomitable energy and perseverance. His return to Congress will be marked by a larger majority than any he has yet received in his district.

IN selecting Hon. GALUSHA A. GROW to conduct the campaign in Pennsylvania, no mistake was made. Thus far that gentleman has labored diligently, and to-day, as the result of his efforts, the political machinery of the State is in smoother working order than it has been for many years past. Under Mr. GROW's management an overwhelming vote will be obtained for GRANT and COLFAX in Pennsylvania.

THE XIVth Constitutional Amendment has been ratified by twenty-five States, including Ohio and New Jersey, which since claim the right, denied by Congress, to withdraw their assent, and also including the reconstructed States of Arkansas, Florida and North Carolina. Louisiana, South Carolina and Georgia will ratify it this week, it is believed, and these will complete the requisite number of twenty-eight, or three-fourths, of the thirty-seven States, to give the Amendment its absolute validity.

THE President some months since removed General GILLEM from the military command in Mississippi, because he gave entirely too much satisfaction to the Union men in that State. The command was given to McDOWELL, the President having been led to believe that he was a Democrat, and would be just the man to carry out his policy of sympathy with the rebels. That was simply one of Mr. JOHNSON's blunders: McDOWELL proved to be neither Democratic nor pliant, and, when an emergency came, did not hesitate to remove HUMPHREYS and other rebels from the head of State affairs. The President therefore turned about once more and restored GILLEM to the command. This gains him nothing except the gratification of his vindictive spirit, since the rebel State officers cannot be restored without General GRANT's consent.

VERY STRONG representations have been forwarded to the Senators from Pennsylvania, within the past day or two, from influential parties in this quarter of the State, earnestly entreating the good offices of Messrs. CAMERON and BUCKALEW in promoting the passage of the House bill regulating the erection of bridges across the Ohio. The Senators have been advised that the provisions of the bill, precisely as it stands, are acceptable to the boating interest, and that any amendments changing its general purport should be disapproved. It is not only proper that Senators should thus be informed of the sentiments of their constituents, but, upon new questions such as this, broached since the opening of the session, they would otherwise have no correct information as to the tendency of public sentiment at home. The representations now made cannot fail therefore to have great weight.

THE CONFEREES OF THE XXIVTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT, composed of Washington, Beaver, Greene and Lawrence counties, have been in session in this city during the past two days for the purpose of nominating a candidate to succeed Hon. GEORGE V. LAWRENCE, the present incumbent, whose term will shortly expire. The one hundred and tenth ballot was reached at the adjournment yesterday, without any choice. Lawrence county presents the name of Dr. J. W. WALLACE; Beaver, MICHAEL WEYAND; Greene, J. B. DONNELLY, and Washington, GEORGE V. LAWRENCE. No positive objection is being made to any of these gentlemen, all of whom are justly recognized as able and worthy party leaders, but the question of locality has thus far prevented a choice, the delegates voting solidly each ballot for the candidate of the county they represent. The friends of Mr. LAWRENCE urge, and with considerable force, that he should be returned to his seat, having so long and faithfully represented his district; and moreover, that he should be permitted to participate in the final consummation of the reconstruction measures of Congress with which he has been so closely identified, and that it is an inauspicious time to put into effect the rotation system which will withdraw any loyal member of Congress who is fully acquainted with all that has transpired during the past few eventful years. Probably a choice will be made to-day. No matter which candidate may be put forward, a hearty support will be accorded him by the delegates as well as the constituencies they represent.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The CHASE intrigue has not yet ripened at New York. Its bud was first discerned on the twelfth ballot yesterday, but it was not suffered to expand in an unpropitious atmosphere. We look for the development of its full-blown beauty to-day.

Twelve ballotings, being the seventh to the eighteenth, both inclusive, consumed the entire day, and the Convention then adjourned to this morning, in such a state of confused excitement as could be checked in no other way but by separation. This excitement, which had more than once before, during the day, been exhibited to a less extent, was immediately attributable to the bad feeling which the betrayal of PENDLETON caused among his friends and to the apprehensions of the wiser and cooler heads, that the ex-rebel element might succeed in forcing HANCOCK upon the Convention, in spite of the deep-laid plans which intend the nomination for another. The ten rebel States voted solid for HANCOCK, and the border States divided, giving him, each, about half their votes. Of course, it is not the intention to encounter the disastrous results to the party which would follow such a nomination, effected in such a way. HANCOCK, placed in the Democratic lead by the votes of FORREST, WADE HAMPTON & Co., would be fatal to any lingering hopes of success in the canvass. This illustrates the hollow insincerity of the movement which, running his vote up to 147½ on the last ballot, would seem to indicate his great popularity. It is all a sham on the part of the Northern politicians, who are playing a deep and, as they think, a sure game. They dare not nominate HANCOCK in that way, and do not intend his nomination at all.

New York and Pennsylvania united, will select the man. They will keep carefully apart until the proper moment arrives, which may be looked for to-day. The PENDLETON game is thoroughly played out. The shrinkage, carefully manipulated by BELMONT and his coadjutors, has brought the Repudiator down to a meagre 56, and the delegates who have supported him throughout, feeling that everything is lost but their honor, are now ready to avenge their wrongs. They will make an example of Mr. HENDRICKS first; he has been the tool of their enemies, and moreover his locality is prejudicial to Mr. Pendleton's prospects in '72.

The hour for the Chief Justice comes to-day if at all. The plot is near its intended denoument; if not, it will be prematurely exploded. His strength must be fully developed in this morning's ballotings, or he will finally disappear from the field. In the latter contingency, a candidate not yet named will sweep away the honors, and the likeliest man for that is CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS, late our English Minister, and who has just landed at New York. But we still believe that the CHASE movement is to have a victorious culmination, if the plans of Wall street can be carried out. Delegates will be governed more and more, as this heated controversy progresses, by the personal feelings, the jealousies, rivalries and spites engendered by the contest. While Mr. CHASE has thus far stood in no man's way, he is the only one yet named of all the candidates in the background, for whom ability and experience in statesmanship may be claimed. We think, therefore, that he will ultimately be accepted by those who have no cause to hate him as well as by those who have always desired his nomination.

This morning's session will tell the story.

THE REPUBLICAN journals of this State, with few exceptions, concur in expressing the opinion that the Governor should convoke a special session of the Legislature, for the purpose of supplying those amendments to the Registry Law, of which the recent decision of the Supreme Court has made the necessity manifest. It is also stated that petitions requesting the Governor to call that body together, are in circulation and signed by such members as favor the complete protection of the suffrage from frauds such as have made past elections a mere farce in more than one section of the Commonwealth. A session convened for the purpose expressed, and discreetly confined to that business only, would occasion a small expense, not worthy of regard when the gravity of the interests at stake is considered; and the needful amendatory legislation could be had within four or five days. We are satisfied that the Governor, recognizing in his discretion the justice of the public expectations in this particular, with special reference to the dangers which past experience has shown to be really formidable, will find himself heartily sustained by the people of Pennsylvania, in convening the Legislature without delay. And we have the same confidence that the members, when again assembled, will be ruled by the propriety of confining their deliberations to the specific matter now urged upon their attention.

EQUALITY OF RIGHTS AND DUTIES.

Among all men who have studied Politics as a Science it has become an axiom that Rights enjoyed by each citizen under a particular government are the exact measure of his real duties and responsibilities thereto. Hence, if all citizens are made equal, as they necessarily are, in a republic so constituted as to comport with modern ideas, equality of duties to be performed, involves an equality of privileges to be used. This is the basis of the sentiment that widely prevails, though variously modified, that as taxes for the support of government are not imposed horizontally on persons, nor yet upon them or any ascertained or approximated value, considered as knowing or producing machines, but upon real and personal estate, that property instead of persons, ought to be chiefly represented in the government, and the owners thereof have the exclusive or preponderating control of political concerns. They who would press this deduction as far as the logic apparently involved in it will bear, overlook the important fact that property is not alone held to perform duties for the government; but only such duties as are peculiar and essential to it; while persons have duties laid upon them, from which they are not allowed to shrink, and which often involve the most serious hazards and exposures, as was sternly illustrated during the war when the Draft laid the commands of the government equally upon all men of proper ages, obliging them to incur the dangers of the camp and battle-field. This superior liability of persons is the fountain of the instinct or sentiment that all citizens should share equally in the direction of public affairs. The adjustment of this conflict between Persons and Property for the possession of political power, has been pretty nearly accomplished in favor of Persons, though traces remain in the laws of most of the States, of the thought that Property is the genuine ground of participation in governmental authority.

This general idea of Equality in Rights and Duties is the foundation of the popular requirement that taxes upon property should be ratable to values; that is, that while each citizen shall be left at liberty to invest the accumulations resulting from his knowledge and industry in whatever forms of property may suit his convenience or gratify his tastes, he shall be compelled to pay in proportion to what he has towards defraying the expenses of the government. Only one exception to the rigid application of this rule seems to be commonly acquiesced in; which is, that articles of luxury shall be chargeable with higher taxes than articles of necessity, and in ratio to their intrinsic uselessness or ostentation. Considering the exception abstractly there seems to be no room for reasonable objection to it; but when an attempt is made to determine what articles shall be reputed and adjudged to be articles of luxury or display, the solution becomes perplexed and difficult—so much depends upon habit, education, fashion, the degree of civilization, and the financial and social position of different individuals. Take the appointments and appurtenances of a modern city or suburban residence, and subject them to the test of absolute necessity, and the residence will speedily be reduced to the primitive model of a hole in the side of a hill, and the edibles to wheat in the sheaf and game captured from the forest or stream. A sharp analysis of this sort is foreign to the immediate object in view, which is to consider not the exception, but the rule itself, which asserts equality in bearing public burdens.

The recognition of this rule as just and wholesome, is what occasions the clamor against the exemption of property invested in national securities from the same measure of taxation to which other kinds of property are subjected. It is idle to censure this clamor, for inequalities either in Duties or Rights will produce that result wherever people are free to express their minds. Withhold from a man any of his natural rights and he will grumble if free speech is left to him. Lay upon him more responsibilities than are laid upon his fellows and he will break out into fault-finding, unless restrained by fear of arbitrary punishment. It is precisely so with masses of men.

As a general proposition it is safe and proper to affirm that property invested in Government bonds shall pay as full a share of taxes for all purposes as property held in any other form. In the long run this proposition is certain to be enforced. But to rest here would be to take a superficial and misleading view of the case.

During the dark days of the Rebellion the Government had pressing need for large sums of money. Its vast necessities and the uncertainty in which the final issue of the contest was enveloped, shook the public credit, and Treasury bonds were sold at a heavy discount and upon other hard conditions. Shall the Government now repudiate any part of its engagements? We say, by no means. Private individuals, owing to losses or complications in their business, or to general derangement in commercial affairs, sometimes find themselves constrained to raise money at unusual rates or upon vexatious conditions. It is not held to be honorable for them, when the pinch is past, to refuse to fulfill, or to interpose technical impediments to the carrying out, in good faith, of their contracts. A merchant or manufacturer who should resort to such expedients to ease his case would be hopelessly discredited, and richly deserves to be.

There are, however, two questions in respect to government securities which may well be asked, and ought to be authoritatively answered. These are—1. How are they payable? and, 2, To what kinds and degrees of taxation are they liable? If there is real doubt and uncertainty on either of these heads, it is well that Congress, by the enactment of supplemental laws should declare the true intent and meaning of existing acts, and that any man aggrieved by that interpretation should seek and obtain such judicial exposition as would settle the dispute.

If the government credit has improved during the last four years, as we doubt not it has, and to such a degree that it can now negotiate loans on easier terms than formerly, it ought to avail itself legitimately of its bettered position by opening new loans for the cancellation of old ones; and it ought to terminate controversies on several annoying points by bringing about specie payments at the earliest practicable day. The true path to the preservation of the national faith, runs in this direction.

Meanwhile the taxes should be equalized, the taxes on bonds being made no higher than taxes on income from other sources, say from moneys at interest on bond and mortgage. In the case of bonds held by banks an equation of taxes ought to be made so as to make the amounts levied on them equal, and no more, to the sums levied on corresponding amounts of capital differently invested. What the people demand, and the laws ought to accord, is equality of burdens as well as of rights.

SPECIE PAYMENTS.

The very important bill reported, by Mr LYNCH, of Maine, from the House Committee on Finance, provides for the gradual resumption of specie payments as follows:

The first section requires the Secretary, receiving the legal tender notes now outstanding, in the course of ordinary transactions at the Treasury, to cancel the same and substitute therefor new notes, the same in denomination and amount, payable in coin one year after date. National Bank notes, received in the same way, to be redeemed by the banks in legal tenders and the latter to be destroyed. with the same substitution of coin-notes at twelve months therefor.

The second section makes these coin-notes a legal tender for all purposes except to pay debts expressly requiring coin, and authorizes the Secretary to re-issue them when received.

The third section empowers the Secretary, after the coin-redemption of these notes shall have commenced, to make the re-issues payable at any shorter period, not less than three months, in his discretion. He may purchase the coin requsite for their redemption by the sale of not more than fifty millions of five-forty bonds, at not less than par, the interest thereon payable in coin at six per cent. or lawful money at seven and three-tenths per cent.

The fourth section prescribes the accounts to be kept of legal tenders destroyed and of coin-notes issued, and directs how the latter shall be prepared and authenticated.

The fifth section prohibits any farther sale or payment of coin from the Treasury, except to pay coin-debts, including therein "the public debt where the same is according to law payable in coin."

The enactment of this bill, and of the bill which has already passed the Senate, to legalize contracts payable in coin, would decisively contribute to an early reform of the currency, and of the business of the country, upon the basis of solid and universally recognized values. It is gratifying to learn that there are good reasons for anticipating these enactments before the present session closes.

REBEL prints, North and South, have steadily claimed a Democratic victory in Mississippi. In this, they have been supported by the ex-rebel agents of the Associated Press in that State, who have constantly given to their reports an aspect as unfavorable to the Republicans as inconsistent with the facts. The latest dispatch claims some 7,000 majority in that interest, with all but two counties heard from. So far are we from crediting this news, that we concur in the opinion of the Nashville Press of the 6th, which says:

> The rebel papers of the 30th ult. still talk about having won the election by a majority of from 10,000 to 15,000—while the Union papers are claiming the victory by a majority ranging from 4,500 to 10,000. We are encouraged to hope that the election has been carried, but by a very small majority.

Upon general considerations, we should regret to find that the people of any of the late rebel States have been so unwise as to listen to the mischievious counsels of party spirit, and to be led thereby to reject the generous and equitable terms of restoration which have so soon followed the conquest of their armed rebellion. Each and all of those communities have certainly reason to feel that they have had enough of the wretched consequences which have followed the infernal heresy of 1861. For their own higher interests, as well as for those of the Republic at large, we would far rather congratulate them upon their return to more rational sentiments, and to a more patriotic conception of their duty towards a government which is, and ever will be, their government as much as ours. But if any one of those ten States shall continue to be fatally bent upon maintaining its misguided and disastrous opposition to the Federal authorities, and to the humane, enlightened and liberal policy of the overwhelming majority of the loyal citizens of this Republic, we are very well content that Mississippi should be the exception. She was the State of JEFF DAVIS, and, although not perhaps for that reason, has been, from the day when secession was first discussed, conspicuous for her hatred of the Union. If she still prefers to cling to that part, let her enjoy it as she can. If she has successfully protested against the reconstruction policy of Congress, we are disposed to see her gratified in the continued blessings of a military government, and in the disinterested contemplation of the auspicious results which follow upon restoration in her sister States. She can make that comparison at her leisure, and when, a second time, she shall be invited to resume the relations of a loyal State, her sober second thought will be more creditable to the good sense and the good temper of her people. Until then, the Republican party remains indebted to Mississippi for affording, perhaps, the most positive proof that the reconstruction policy is neither inconsistent with the largest measure of free agency on the part of the late rebels, nor does it deserve, in other particulars, the censure with which Northern Copperheads have denounced it as an "arbitrary despotism." In short, Reconstruction, justified in other Southern States, is not the less vindicated in Mississippi; the former illustrate its just and wise moderation by their prompt acquiescence, while the latter gives the most convincing proof that the policy has been conceived in the true spirit of Republican freedom.

THE Pittsburgh Post asserts, on the authority of an Indiana journal, that Mr. COLFAX was initiated into a Know Nothing Lodge in 1854, and took the regular oath. Our neighbor can scarcely fail to be aware that the friends of COLFAX have flatly denied that this charge has a particle of foundation, and that, although the proof has been challenged, not a particle of evidence has ever, or anywhere, been brought to sustain it. Upon the vague authority of the Indianapolis Sentinel, or some more obscure sheet, this slander is nevertheless reiterated by Democratic editors, who either know that it has been authoritatively branded as a falsehood, or else are so ignorant that they should retire from journalism.

COLFAX was never initiated as a Know Nothing; never took the oath of that order, and never was accused, at home, where he is best known, of unfriendly or proscriptive sentiments towards foreign-born citizens. And he who asserts to the contrary is either ignorant or reckless of the truth.

BOYS IN BLUE.

The following stirring address has been issued by the Soldiers' Republican organization of this State, which has already commenced its labors, and will be heard from in due time:

HEADQUARTERS SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, 105 CHESTNUT STREET,
PHILADELPHIA, July 6, 1868.

COMRADES: When the rebel armies were overthrown and the rebel leaders forgiven by our magnanimous Chief, the whole world wondered at the generosity which pardoned men guilty of so great a crime. The least we expected was that the Government for which we had fought, and for which so many had given up their lives, was secured against the possibility of another conspiracy. But, warned by history and taught by our own experience among the misguided people of the South, we maintained our organizations, and now, in the forefront of another peril, congratulate ourselves upon the wisdom of that decision. So thoroughly have our military brothers re-united themselves, that only a few who wore the Union blue can be induced to join the ranks of the rebel Democracy. Our camps extend east and west, from the Atlantic to the Pacific; and there is not a veteran who does not realize that the public danger may once more call him to the field. The alarming spectacle of a formal combination between the two great columns of treason—the rebel army of the South and the rebel sympathizers of the North—is the living proof of great impending calamities. These desperate men—the one side still vaunting their treason against the country, and the other still boasting of the aid and comfort extended to them—profess to be confident of success in the approaching election. The animosity they bore to our beloved Commander-in-Chief—now the candidate of the great Republican party—survives the hollow gratitude with which they hailed his liberal terms of peace; and now, remembering only that he struck them in the field, and coldly forgetting how he forgave their great offence, they are toiling with superhuman energy to defeat him for the Presidency, and to place in that high office a fit successor of its present guilty occupant. Their hatred of Grant extends to all our heroic leaders, with one or two exceptions. The only offence of these accomplished soldiers is their fidelity to the country for which they fought. Gen. George H. Thomas in Tennessee, Gen. Irwin McDowell in Mississippi, Gen. George G. Meade in Georgia, Gen. Canby in South Carolina, and General Reynolds in Texas, with their predecessors, Sheridan, Sickles, Pope, Swayne and Mower, are proscribed and slandered like common felons, while every Union man in the South, black and white, is subjected to inconceivable cruelty and oppression. This wholesale malevolence, looking directly to the restoration of the rebel government, teaches us not only the wisdom and justice of our organization, but invokes us to renewed efforts in favor of Grant and Colfax, the standard bearers of the Republican party, and for our gallant comrades, Hartranft and Campbell, our standard bearers in the State contest.

The fundamental ideas of this rebel combination are that nothing has been gained by the success of our arms, but that everything has been lost. To forget the sanctified dead, to ignore and outrage the gallant living, and to remember and reward those only whose crimes in any other nation would have been punished by death or confiscation, is the inspiring motive of our adversaries. What American soldier does not feel the insult? What American citizen does not burn to resent it? Instead of cordially submitting to the laws passed by overwhelming Congressional majorities, and carried into effect for the grand purpose of reorganizing the South upon the basis of equal justice and equal rights, our recent adversaries openly threaten a new resort to arms.

At no period in the rebellion have they been at once so defiant and so cruel. United in antagonism to the laws, to the national credit, to the national currency, to the public peace, and to those great principles for which we contended, and succeeded in maintaining, they coolly appeal to the people and ask a verdict in favor of their incredible crimes. Speaking now for the returned volunteers of Pennsylvania, who were disfranchised by the Democracy, we solemnly renew our devotion to our beloved country, and assert, not simply our readiness to support our candidates at the ballot-box, but our determination, at all times, to march to our Government's defence against her enemies.

By order of the Committee.

CHAS. H. T. COLLIS, Chairman.
A. L. RUSSELL, Secretary.

A Straw from Tammany.

Public talk in a public assemblage is legitimately public property when it serves as straws to show the currents of feeling. A Northerner and Southerner, both members of the Convention, met in one of the aisles. The Northerner had fallen under the suspicion of the Government during the war, and the Southerner had occupied a confidential position in the rebel Government. These two meeting, the Northerner hastened to assure the other that the South had had his sympathy during the war, and the other answering that he had been aware of it and had followed the Northerner's history with a great deal of interest. A conversation ensued that raised a doubt whether, if these men should succeed in electing their ticket, it would be the galvanized Confederacy or the United States of America in which we would live.—N. Y. paper.

A NEW YORK dispatch of the 6th, to the Philadelphia Ledger says: "Wall street is manifesting an extraordinary interest in the proceedings. Many of the most prominent bankers and brokers are on the ground, urging the claims of this candidate, or showing how that one could not be elected. This class of outsiders are especially anxious that the platform say nothing on the financial question that will be likely to lower the price of bonds."

Maine Republican Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PORTLAND, July 8.—At the afternoon session of the Republican State Convention George L. Beal and S. P. Strickland were nominated for electors at large.

Joshua J. Chamberlain was re-nominated for Governor by acclamation,

Resolutions were adopted approving the Chicago platform, endorsing Grant and Colfax, complimenting Governor Chamberlain, expressing gratitude and homage to the loyal dead, declaring the Democratic State Convention resolution relative to taxing bonds is a frand on the people, that the Democratic National Convention in New York an attempt to revive rebellion, its first aim being to destroy the public credit, and its second to revive the rebel governments in the rebellious States.

The Convention was addressed by John L. Bingham and General Sickles. The latter was escorted to the hall by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention. There was great enthusiasm, and the Convention adjourned with three cheers for Grant and Chamberlain.

A mass meeting to-night was addressed by Bingham, Sickles, Pleasanton, Blaine and others.

Killed by Lightning—Oil Accident.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST PAUL, Minn., July 8.—During the thunder storm yesterday afternoon, at Henderson, a man named Jacob Yeuning was struck by lightning and killed.

On Tuesday night last the foreman of the Staples Mill, named Chas. Roberts, at Stillwater, this State, attempted to fill a kerosene lamp with oil while it was burning, when the lamp exploded, setting fire to the oil can which contained a gallon and a half of kerosene. The fiery liquid enveloped Roberts, burning him terribly. He is still alive.

St. Louis Tobacco Fair.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 8.—The annual tobacco fair was held to-day at the warehouse of Christian Peper, corner Market and Twelfth streets. The entries were numerous and competition spirited. The quality of tobacco displayed was, however, inferior to the former fair.

—The rebels in Northern China are again reported to have obtained of late several successes and to menace once more the capital, Pekin. While there can be no doubt that the rebellion in Northern China is still unsubdued, the reports which have been received during the past two years about the appearance of rebel armies in the neighborhood of Pekin have always been exaggerations, and are likely to prove so again.

—A party of soldiers belonging to the 25th infantry, at Memphis went to the house of Ed. O'Neil, who had shot a comrade the day before, and battered down the doors. O'Neil fled to the county jail for safety, was pursued and fired at by the soldiers. O'Neil's friends hearing the firing soon collected and but for the arrival of the officers of the day with a guard a bloody riot would have ensued.

—Gen. Canby has issued an order that the functions of military officers in South Carolina shall cease upon the proclamation by the President of the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment. The prisoners in custody under charges of violating the reconstruction acts will be discharged, and those held for other offenses will be turned over to the civil officers.

—Three persons were drowned while crossing the Connecticut River at the ferry at Holyoke, Massachusetts, Monday afternoon. They are supposed to have been Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Davis and their little son, of Springfield.

—Hon. Reverdy Johnson has accepted a complimentary entertainment, to take place at Annapolis, his birth place, on the 21st. He has also accepted the banquet proffered him by Baltimoreans.

—The Horse Fair at Buffalo will commence on the 28th inst.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED.

When the system is once affected it will not rally of its own accord; it needs help—it must be strengthened and invigorated; this is especially the case when the

KIDNEYS, BLADDER OR URINARY ORGANS

Are affected. For immediate relief and permanent cure,

DR. SARGENT'S

Diuretic or Backache Pills

Are a perfectly safe and reliable specific. This well known remedy has effected a large number of speedy and remarkable cures, and have never failed to give relief when taken according to directions.

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

Are purely vegetable, and contain no mercury or calomel. They do not exhaust the system, but on the contrary they act as a tonic, imparting new tone and vigor to the organs and strengthening the whole body. These Pills have stood the test of thirty-five years, and are still gaining in popularity.

SECURE HEALTH IN ADVANCE.

It is as difficult to extinguish a raging fever as a raging fire; but you can prevent a conflagration by rendering your dwelling fire-proof, and you can prevent an attack o fever by invigorating and purifying your "house of clay."

The outside pressure" upon the constitution and the vital powers at this season is tremendous. Every pore of the millions which cover the surface of the body is a drain upon its substance and its strength. To meet this depletion, to keep up the stamina under such a constant outflow of dissolving flesh, a tonic and invigorant is absolutely necessary, and time, that tries all things, has proved that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS impart a degree of strength and resistant power to the over-taxed vital forces, which is unattainable by any other known means. The effect of this inestimable vegetable preparation is to increase the appetite, accelerate digestion, tone the secretive organs, give firmness to the nerves, purify the blood, cheer the spirits, and, by thus rallying all the forces of the body, enable it to defy the enervating influence of the heat, and pass triumphantly through the trying ordeal of the summer months. As a safeguard against epidemics, and a preventive of the feebleness, lassitude and prostration, of which so many thousands complain at this season, it has a national reputation founded on twenty-five years of uninterrupted and unequalled success.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculair mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, July 8, 1868.

Government bonds although weak, did not decline any further to-day, and at the close of business, a slight improvement was noticeable. The amounts offered at the present low quotations are very trifling, whilst there is a steady demand from investors in small sums. Speculators keep aloof at present; the indications are that lower quotations will gradually be made, caused by a desire to sell not only by speculators but also by banks and business men, who have bought on presumption of making a handsome turn during the present month.

Gold, against general expectations declining to-day, ¾ per cent., but we reported the market dull at the close last night favoring a decline. So long as the government is disbursing large amounts of gold they cannot raise materially especially when from three to five per cent. is charged for carrying gold and interest on call loans is up to five and six per cent. The nomination of a democratic candidate for President of the Pendleton creed will have little to do with the rise of gold; it is the continued heavy export demand in the absence of any other covering for drafts.

Stocks are very dull and active; the entire list is from ½ to ¾ per cent. lower today. Fort Wayne has been selling at 106¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 87; North Western common and preferred is off about one per cent.

Express shares are a little better, with a very small business. Money is more active at from 8 to 12 per cent. Business is dull.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 140¾; 1881 bonds, 113¼; 5-20s, 1862, 113¼; 1864 do, 110¾; 1865 do, 111¾; new, 1865 and 1867, 108¾; Ten Forties, 107; Seven Thirties, 108¼.

New York Central, 134½; Erie, 69⅝; Michigan Southern, 91¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 87; Northwestern, common, 78; Preferred, 81⅝; Chicago & Rock Island, 107¼; Pittsburgh & Fort Wayne, 106½; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 29⅜; Merchants Union Express, 24⅞; Western Union Telegraph, 34⅜; Corydon, 30; Quicksilver, 20⅜; Quartz Hill, 1,15.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 140¾; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 113¼; 5-20's, 1862, 113¼; 5-20's, 1864, 110¾; 5-20's, 1865, 111¾; 10-40's, 107¼; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 108½; 5-20's, January and July, '67 108¾; June 7-30's, 108⅝; July 7-30's, 108⅜; May Comp., 1865, 119.-30.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, July, 8, 1868.

The general markets continue dull, the volume of business, in the aggregate, being light, and the indications are not encouraging for any immediate improvement. July is usually a very dull month, country people being busily engaged in looking after their crops, while our merchants and manufacturers are engaged in making settlements and taking stock.

We were shown yesterday by Mr. J. S. Dilworth, of this city, specimens of roasting corn and sugar cane from from his Magnolia Grove Plantation, in Louisiana. The corn stands fresh and healthy, ten feet high, covering five hundred acres, while the cane is eight feet high, covering three-hundred and seventy-five acres. It is estimated that the sugar product of Louisiana this year will reach 75,000 hhds. against 37,500 last year.

GROCERIES—The market still continues dull for all classes of goods. Sugars are heavy, and we reduce our quotations on refined ¼ since our last report. Raws remain unchanged. Coffee quiet, and in view of the large stock held in the eastern cities (187,000 bags) it is not probable that it will advance. Syrups, Teas and Rice quiet.

SUGARS—Cuba, 12½c for good grocery 12¾ to 13c for prime; and 14c for choice; Porto Rico—good, 13c; prime, 13½; choice, 14½ to 15c; Clarified Cuba, 14 to 14½c. Refined—Standard Hard 17½c; A, 16½c; B, 15¾c; Extra C, 16¼c Sugar House, 11¾c.

COFFEE—Rio ranges all the way from 21 to 26c for common to strictly prime. Java 37 to 38c.

SYRUPS—Lovering's $1; Silver Drips, $1; White Drips, $1,10; medium brands, 70 to 80c; common, 50 to 60c; Booth & Edgar Syrup, 90c

RICE—Rangoon, good, 10c; prime to choice, 11 to 11½c; Carolina, 12 to 12½c.

MOLASSES—New Orleans, 90 to $1; Cuba, 65 to 70c; Porto Rico, 70 to 85c.

SPICES—Cassia, 80 to 85c; Cloves, 50c; Pepper, 38c; Allspice, 35c; Nutmegs, $1,50.

STARCH—Madison, 8c; Silver Gloss, 12½c, and Corn Starch, 13¼c.

FRUITS—Layer Rasins, $4,75 per box; Valentia, 20c per lb; Prunes, 17c; Currants, 14c for new.

BAR LEAD—12c; Shot, $3,50 per bag.

SOAPS—"Babbitt's," 12c; "Oakley's," 11½c; Rosin, 5 to 7c; "Dobbin's," 15c.

CANDLES—Mould, 16c; Star, 23c.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$7,50 per case.

BI CARB SODA—$3,50 per 100.

FISH—White Fish, $6,00; Lake Herring, $5,00; Mackerel No. 1, $22; No. 2 $18,00; No. 3, $13,50; in half barrels, 50 more.

TOBACCO—Black 5s, 10s, ⅛s and Louisville Navy, 72 to 75c; Wm. H. Grant's 10 and Navy, 80c; C. & D. Tobacco, 22c to 25 for best.

TEA—The market is firm and prices are higher for new crop. Choice Young Hyson, $1,75; fair, $1,50; common to good, $ to $1,35; Oolong, 75c, 85c, 90c, $1, $1,25 and $1,35; good Porto Rico, $1 to $1,85, as to quality. Imperial, $1 to $1,85. Japan—Choice, $1,30; fair $1.

FLOUR—The market is dull and weak while prices are nominally unchanged We continue to quote at $9,50 to $10 for fair to medium Spring Wheat; $10,25 to $10,50 for choice do; $11 to $11,50 for Winter Wheat, and $13 to $14 for fancy brands. Rye Flour $9. Messrs Isaiah Dickey & Co received 40 bbls of New Tennessee Flour to-day.

GRAIN—The Wheat market is unsettled and millers do not seem disposed to buy very freely in anticipation of a decline; we hear of several car loads of new crop en route from Tennessee, but thus far it has not been sold. The last sale of new Tennessee Wheat reported was at $2,35, but it is now impossible to give quotations though it is not probable that that figure could be obtained, as buyers are very strong for concessions, and even if concessions were made we do not believe they would take hold very freely. Oats quiet and unchanged at 77 to 78 on track. Rye is scarce, and may be quoted at $1,75 to $1,80 Corn is quiet and unchanged.

BUTTER—Is dull with a drooping tendency; good to prime fresh packed 23 to 25c.

EGGS—Dull and unchanged, at 20 to 21

HAY—In consequnce of diminished arrivals, is firmer and may be quoted steady at $15 to $20 for new, and $20 to $25 for old.

MILL FEED—Steady with sales of Bran at $1,20 to $1,25, and Middlings at $1,90 to $1,95.

POTATOES—New crop steady with regular sales at $6 per bbl—no sales old orop in market.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged at 12¼ for shoulders; 15½ to 16 for Ribbed, and 17¼ to 18 for Clear Sides, and 19½ to 19¾ for canvassed Sugar Cured Hams Prime kettle rendered Lard 17½ to 17¾. Dried Beef 21 to 22. Mess Pork, $28,50 to 628,75.

LARD OIL—Is quiet and a shade easier; we now quote at $1,20 for No. 2, and $1,38 to $1,40 for No. 1.

DRIED FRUIT—Dried apples sold at 5c to 6c and 8 to 11 for Peaches.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, July 8, 1868.

CRUDE—The Crude market was more active to-day, the reported sales reaching ten thousand barrels, but prices are no better, and to us it seemed that oil was offered more freely than it was yesterday. Sales were: 1,000 bbls, first half July, seller's option, at 15c, delivered on tank cars; 1,000 first half August, at 15¾c; 4,000 spot, in tank, at 15c; 4,000 do at 15c, guaged in tank. The report of two new wells, each yielding two hundred and fifty barrels per day, no doubt, inclined holders to sell, and those who hesitated about accepting 15c yesterday sold at that figure today. It is but proper to remark, however, that there is no disposition manifested to make concessions, though the impression is not so strong about a still further advance.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil, was fairly active though less excited, and upon the whole, weak. Prices, compared with yesterday, have undergone no quotable change. The sales were; 1,000 bbls for last half September at 35½; 1,000 for last half August at 35½; 2,500 same delivery at 35; 500 each for September, October and December at 35½; 500 each same months, at same price; and 500 each July to December at 35. July is quoted at 34½; and all the year, buyers option, nominally at 36.

PITTSBURGH WOOL MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, July 8, 1868.

We have no change to note in prices since our last. In Ohio and other western States a large amount of Wool has already been sold, at prices ranging from 33 to 40c, according to quality and condition. In Beaver, Lawrence and Butler counties considerable amounts of Wool has been sold at 35c to 40c, in quality, from common to three-fourths blood. In some other districts not much Wool has yet been sold, owing to the extreme prices demanded by the growers. We quote at 35 to 37c for common and one-fourth blood; 37 to 40c for one-half to three-fourths blood, and 38 to 40c for tub-washed.

SERVANTGALISM.

Woman's Way of Emancipating our Housekeepers from Slavery.

[From the Springfield, (Mass.) Republican.]

Servantgalism is a word coined to supply needed term applicable to the present day. is a horrid day-mare, which many ladies e forced to ride. Never was there a time hen the evils of domestic life were so hard endure, We pitied the slaves forced to ol unpaid for their Southern mistresses; et many of our Northern housekeepers ave harder task-mistresses over them than e slaves. A young married Southern dy assured me that "no negro slave on the lantations among which she passed her irlhood suffered such slavery as she enured at the hands of her Irish nursery irl." I fully believe the truth of her asertion. An ignorant girl soon learns her ower, and is not slow to use it. Where es the trouble? What is the panacea which can soothe the woes of Northern ousekeepers and break the chains of "serantgalism?" There is strength in union. Ve all, by experience, learn the corectness of the fable of "The Bunle of Sticks." Bound together, the trongest man could not break them. ingly, a child could snap them in twain. o with our woes—singly, we could not ombat them. Joined in hands, the power ours, and we can hold it. "A Sorosis," woman's league, should be formed in very sociable circle, rules should be adopd and enforced, barriers erected to resist ncroachments, and victory is ours. Our omen pride themselves to a great extent pon this independence of each other. ne says, "My girls go and come when they lease. It saves my coal and gas to have hem out. I have no children in need of heir attendance, and prefer my girls to isit rather than be visited." Her next oor neighbor requires the attendance of er girls, evenings. Hence trouble arises. ow, if there could be uniform rules in a ommunity, how much trouble would be voided. If all hiring a cook and second irl, or a girl of all work, require that cerlain ules should be observed, how much easier ousehold wheels would run. One eyening, or one afternoon in a week, besides unday at church, and Sunday evening lternately, if there are two girls in a family, gives abundant liberty to a servant girl. ew mothers of families, who do their own work, have as much leisure, and many a oman has not the freedom she fgives her ervant.

One crying evil of the times is the readiness with which housekeepers will engage hose who have been sent away by another or impudence or bad behavior. They reason in this manner: "This girl has lived months or years with Mrs. ——, has been well trained, and is now sent away for misconduct. She will behave better with me and I will take her." Is this right? Servant girls soon learn that if sent away for impudence from one lady, another stands ready to engage them, because they have lived with Mrs. ——. There is no reason why they should restrain their passions; places are easily found. If they are good cooks, well trained chambermaids and waiters, being sent away is no disgrace. So they continue in their evil courses, give their tongues full sway, and their employers suffer bitterly. Every lady should make it a rule not to employ girls discharged for impertinence or any misconduct. Then they will soon learn that they must control their tempers or there is no home for them.

A wife and mother must control her temper, or she loses all power over young and old. She must restrain the hasty word, must check the bitter reply. Patience soon becomes her watchword, and she often silently repeats the word, hoping thereby to gain the virtue. If; in her girlhood she has not learnt self control, the lesson of after years teaches it to her; not so with uneducated, unrestrained servant girls. They do not learn the lesson heaven-eyed patience would teach them. Wages are their chief consideration. If one house does not desire their aid, another stands ready to welcome them. So the evil grows in our midst. And where does the blame rest? Not with the ignorant, misguided girls, but with their employer. Ours should be the task to guide their ill-trained tempers into better ways; but as long as our next door neighbor stands ready to employ them if we turn them away, we have no hold upon them.

Will ladies awaken to the emergencies of the case? All over the North we hear the bitter complaints of the housewives, and no one suggests a remedy. And the evil grows as rapidly as the snowball that is rolled over the field. It would melt away as rapidly as that same snowball does when exposed to the sun's rays, if we would only expose it, bring it to the light, see our power and learn to use it. Take for our motto "union is strength," and go boldly forward in the good cause. We hold the reins, and are cruelly driven, beside being forced to pay most heavily for the privilege.

The Late Hole-in-the-Day.

An exchange says of the famous Indian chieftain:

"Hole-in-the-Day was one of the wealthiest men in Minnesota, his property being estimated at about $2,000,000. His duties as Chief frequently called him to Washington, and upon one of his visits to that city about two years ago, while stopping at Willard's Hotel, he became fascinated with one of the pretty waiter girls of that establishment, and strange to say his passion was reciprocated. To make a long story short, a gay wedding was the result, and when he returned to his Minnesota home, she went with him as his bride. They took up their residence at Crow Wing, where they have since lived in fine rural style, surrounded by all the comforts and luxuries which money could procure.

"The death of Hole-in-the-Day is not only a calamity to his own people, but to those of the whole State. His influence has always been for good, and like that of Logan, the famous chief of the Mingoes, it will live long after he shall have returned to dust.

"His wife, the waiter-girl of two years ago, and who inherits one-half of her husband's vast property, will now be worth looking for."

Slovenliness in Spain.

An English writer romarks: The first thing that strikes an English lady in all foreign countries is the absence of neatness, and of that domestic privacy which some of us carry to excess. It is nothing to us that foreigners do not feel the want as we do, that there is nothing incongruous to the Spaniard in the mixture of pomp and squallor, which the English resident finds so repulsive. It may seem strange to us that the courtyard of the Palace at Madrid should be worse paved than any stableyard in a dilapidated house in England, and that heaps of rubbish should be left in full view of the Queen's windows. So, too, when we hear of the family wash hanging out to dry over drawing room balconies of the handsomest houses in Madrid, we are struck by a painful sense of the scandal such a sight would cause in London.

WASHINGTON TOPICS AND GOSSIP.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Senator Sherman intends if possible to haye his funding bill take precedence of the tax bill, both having been made special orders for Monday. Opposition to it will be upon the ground that any such legislation is unnecessary, many Senators holding that McCulloch has ample powers already, since he can convert any outslanding bonds, as they become due, into almost any kind of security, to run any length of time up to forty years. When financial legislation of the session of 1866 was pending, McCulloch was examined by the Ways and Means Committee, and represented that he felt restricted by the word "convert" in existing statutes, which he thought might be held that he must exchange securities, but could not buy one kind and sell another under that authority. A bill was therefore passed relieving him from such construction, and some of those most conversant with previous legislation hold that no funding bills can be framed of the slightest utility, since Secretary McCulloch can buy in the present bonds and issue others at lower rates and for longer time, whenever such funding can be accomplished to advantage.

July 6, 1868.—The most interesting feature to-day in Congress was the tactics by which Moorhead's attempt to get the tariff bill up was defeated. Having a clear majority he carried his motion for the House to go into Committee of the Whole. The next motion necessary to get at the tariff bill was to set aside the calendar. On this several votes by tellers failed to get a quorum, but a call of the House showed one hundred and one members, one more than required. As it seemed certain that the bill would be taken up—the vote standing sixty-one to thirty-five—several opposed to the tariff bill avoided voting, and the committee was compelled to rise. The votes showed that about two-thirds of those present were in favor of a revision of the tariff this session, but this proposition may be materially changed in a full House, as the Democrats certainly will generally be opposed to Moorhead's bill. During a part of the afternoon but one Democrat could be seen on the floor of the House.

The Senate Committee on Postoffices and Postroads will probably report a substitute for the long-span bridge bill, which passed the House Monday. Their view is to have the length of span of each bridge fixed by a Board of Engineers from the War Department. A number of railroad men are looking after their interests in this matter.

A letter to the Congressional Executive Committee from the Chairman of the Republican Committee of Mississippi, dated Vicksburg, July 3d, says: The indications are that the rebel party have carried the State. He says enormous frauds have been perpetrated, and many loyal men and negroes have been kept from the polls by violence. He deplores the removal of Gen. McDowell, who, he says, was the only good military man they ever had. The river counties, where most of the soldiers are, and where the voters were protected, give fifteen thousand majority for the Constitution. Other letters give some hope. They say the telegraph is under the control of the rebels, and the Associated Press reports are unreliable.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, at a meeting yesterday, decided to report against the confirmation of Mr. H. A. Smythe as Minister to Austria. It was determined to take no action on the nomination of Mr. Stillwell as Minister to Venezuela.

The Republican Senators held a caucus on Mr. Edmund's bill for the next meeting of Congress on the third Monday of November, but determined nothing.

The following is a correct list of the Congressmen from North Carolina, three of whom have been sworn in: First District, John R. French; Second District, D. Heaton; Third District, Oliver H. Dackery; Fourth District, John T. Defrees; Fifth District, Israel G. Lash; Sixth District, Nathaniel Boyden; Seventh District, Alex. H. Jones. The rest of the delegation will arrive in the city in a day or two, and will at once take their seats. Mr. Boyden is over seventy years old, and next to Mr. Stevens, will be the oldest member in the House. He was a prominent member of the Thirtieth Congress. The Senators from North Carolina will arrive in a day or two.

General Irwin McDowel, commanding the Fourth Military District, has issued an order announcing that the State of Arkansas having been admitted to representation in Congress, the acts providing for military governments in certain Southern States have become inoperative as to the State of Arkansas, and everything in the hands of the military authorities concerning its civil affairs is turned over to the duly elected officers of the State. Brevet Brigadier General C. H. Smith is charged with the execution of this order.

The appropriation bills are to be completed this week. It is expected that the Senate will complete the Tax bill and send it to the House to-day. This body will not concur in the amendments, and the bill will go to a Conference Committee before the end of the week and be passed finally about Tuesday.

There is some probability now that Mr. Moorhead's new tariff bill will be passed, and if so Congress may remain in session until the 1st of August. There are members who are urging a recess until September, but this measure will probably fail.

The House will not act this session on the bill to tax the interest on the United States bonds. The measure will be defeated in the Senate anyhow.

A most intense interest is manifested in the action of the New York Convention, and every item of news is sought for with avidity. President Johnson, Judge Chase, Senator Hendricks, and General Hancock are receiving a copious stream of telegrams from their friends, each one of whom has the most positive assurances that he is the only man on whom the discordant elements can possibly unite, and each one thinks he is sure to be nominated.

The President having failed to act upon the Freedmen's Bureau bill, it is a law by limitation.

It is barely possible that Mr. Lynch's bill for the resumption of specie payments next July will pass.

There was but one Democratic Congressman present in the House yesterday.

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTSF

One "	18x26	"	4	"
One "	18x26	"	3	"
One "	24x26	"	5	"

One Stable, 20x24 feet, 16 feet high; Blacksmith Shop and other outbuildings. This land is underlaid with stone coal and iron ore, and it has plenty of never-failing springs of water, besides the creek running through the entire premises, and will be sold cheap and on easy terms, to a good man with a little money.

10 LOTS ON BEDFORD AVENUE, each lot 20 by 100 feet, on which is erected four two-story frame dwelling houses, of 6 rooms and hall each. These lots embrace a full square of ground, fronting 200 feet on Bedford avenue, and bounded on each end by a wide street, with an 18 feet alley in the rear. On the premises is a pump of lasting and excellent water, and the surface of the lots is level and needs neither filling nor grading to prepare them for building purposes, and being in a section of the city where property is increasing very rapidly in value, make them desirable for an investment, especially as the present houses rent for enough to pay a good interest on the sum asked for the whole property. Call soon on the undersigned and secure a cheap, safe and paying investment.

Also, A FARM OF 160 ACRES of good land, situated in East Wheatfield township, Indiana Co., Pa., 90 acres of which is cleared land, in good cultivation, 20 acres being in excellent meadow. The improvements are a two-story frame dwelling house of 4 rooms, a frame bank barn, 36x60 feet, with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 700 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from the city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers

Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 80 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; 120 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 158 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Tp., Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Pempsted railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Suter's Station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flagstone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.

Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 250 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Bolivar Station. The Paving of Second street to the Birmingham bridge will be completed to-day, after which, we presume, attention will be turned to the sidewalk, which is in a very bad condition, in some places absolutely dangerous to life and limb.

Although now in his seventy-eighth year, he looks well and hearty. His father was one of the first subscribers to the GAZETTE eighty-six years ago, and it has been in the family ever since. The thieves succeeded in getting away with their booty, leaving no clue behind.

Chartiers Valley Railroad.

Only about $35,000 or $40,000 remains to be raised in order to meet the required amount of $300,000 asked by the parties owning the road. The people along the line have generously responded, as well as many of our merchants.

The Washington county Committee are now in the city, and desire to raise the additional $35,000. We hope our business men will respond to their demands, and thus render the completion of this great enterprise a fixed fact. The advantages to be derived by Pittsburgh from the building of this road will be very great, as the rich valley of the Chartiers will be opened to the trade of the city. We hope our business men will assist this Committee, and contribute liberally towards making up the comparatively small sum yet required.

Fatal Accident.

An accident occurred on the Pan Handle Railroad, near Walker's Mills, yesterday morning at two o'clock, which resulted in the death of Michael Connelly, a laborer, who resided in that vicinity. It appears that he was riding on a stone train, which was running down the road. He was sitting on the front end of the front car and the train, which was running at a low rate of speed, suddenly stopped and then started again. The sudden jar when the train stopped threw him off and the wheels of the car passed over him before he could get out of the way. Coroner Clawson was notified and went out to hold an inquest. A jury was impannelled and after viewing the body and examining one or two witnesses adjourned to meet at the Coroner's office at seven o'clock this evening.

Another Homicide—A Man Killed at Brady's Bend—The Murderer at Large.

A most brutal and fiendish assault was made upon John Woodhead, a workman in the Iron mills at Brady's Bend, on the 4th inst., by John Mattigan, a fellow workman, which caused the death of the former.

It appears that the men had been quarreling some time before, but had settled the dispute, shook hands, and parted on friendly terms, going in different directions. When they were about twenty-five or thirty yards apart Mattigan picked up a stone and started in pursuit of Woodhead, and upon coming up with him threw the stone and struck him above the right eye, fracturing his skull. The injured man was picked up insensible and removed to a house near where the affray occurred, and a physician called in, who did all in his power to save his life, but to no effect. He lived until eight o'clock Tuesday night. The murderer, as soon as he had delivered the fatal blow, left the place and has not been heard of since. He is described as a middle aged man, an Irishman by birth, five feet ten inches high, black hair, black eyes, and dark complexion. A reward will be offered for his apprehension.

Fair and Festival.

The fair and festival for the benefit of the Sabbath School connected with the Fourth United Presbyterian Church opened last night in the Fifth Ward School House, and was well attended, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather. There are a great many valuable and useful articles on exhibition, among which we noticed a handsome Estey Organ, purchased at the establishment of Barr, Knake & Buettler, and to be awarded to the most popular Sabbath School Superintendent. The friends of Messrs. F. H. Hamilton, of Wesley Chapel, T. H. Rabe, of the Tenth Ward Mission, and Jas. Arbuthnot, of the Fourth United Presbyterian School, are actively engaged in canvassing, each party, no doubt, feeling confident of success. The affair will be continued this and to-morrow evenings, and those who wish to pass an evening pleasantly should not fail to attend.

False Pretence.

Officer Hague yesterday arrested L. Kahn, a clothier, doing business on Pennsylvania avenue, on a warrant issued by Alderman Williams, of Philadelphia, for false pretense. It is alleged that Kahn obtained goods to the amount of $288 from Losheim Bros., of Philadelphia, by representing that he owned property here, which is said not to be the case. Kahn gave bail in the sum of five hundred dollars before Alderman Humbert for a his appearance at a hearing in Philadelphia on the first of August next.

Twenty-Seventh Senatorial District—Meeting of the Conferees—Three Candidates in the Field.

The Senatorial Conferees, appointed by the Republicans of Armstrong, Butler and Lawrence counties, composing the Twenty-seventh Senatorial District, met at the Monongahela House at two o'clock p. m., yesterday, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for State Senator for that district.

On motion of Mr. Thomas Robinson, of Butler county, the meeting was organized by calling Mr. Jno. L. Hays to the chair, and on motion of Mr. Geo. Bouvard, of Armstrong, Mr. Robinson was elected Secretary.

Mr. Hays upon taking the Chair thanked the members for the honor conferred upon him by calling him to preside over their deliberations, and after stating the object for which they had convened, said that there were three aspirants for the position, all good men, but as there was but one to be nominated, there would be two defeated. He had no doubt the meeting would be harmonious and the result of their labors satisfactory to their constituents. He then announced the meeting ready to proceed to business.

The Secretary was directed to prepare a roll of the members, and the following named gentlemen presented their credentials:

Armstrong County—Dr. T. H. Allison, Geo. Bovard and David Barclay.

Butler—Charles McCandless, W. H. H. Riddle and Thomas Robinson.

Lawrence—John L. Hays, J. Haus and D. P. Aiken.

The Chairman announced the meeting ready to receive nominations.

Dr. Allison nominated Jeremiah Bonner, of Armstrong county.

Mr. McCandless nominated James Kerr, of Butler county.

Mr. Aiken nominated Samuel McKinley, of Lawrence county.

The ballot was then taken with the following result:

Bonner..... 3 | McKinley... 3 | Kerr..... 3

Eleven more ballots were taken with the same result, when on motion of Mr. Haus, the meeting adjourned to meet at four o'clock P. M.

The conferees convened pursuant to adjournment, and proceeded to ballot. After fifty-eight ballots with the same result as above, on motion adjourned to meet at eleven o'clock this morning.

A Truant Wife.

An information was made before Justice Salsbury, of Birmingham, yesterday, by Jacob Lettston, charging William Grover and Elizabeth Lettston, wife of the prosecutor, with larceny, which, if the charge be true, developes the fact that the prosecutor has not only been robbed of a little "filthy lucre," but that the wife of his bosom, the partner of his joys and sorrows, has been induced to depart from the path of virtue, leave her husband and fly with her seducer.

It is alleged by the prosecutor that he and Grover occupied the same house in Birmingham, neither of them having any family except their wives, and that on the morning of the 4th of July his wife left the premises. After waiting some time for her return, only to be disappointed, he went to Grover's room to enquire for her, but found no one in. Since that time he has neither seen nor heard from either his wife or Grover, but Tuesday evening Grover's wife returned to the house and still remains there. Upon further investigation of his premesis he discovered that he had been robbed of fourteen dollars, which was all the money there was in the house at the time of the elopement. He further alleges that his wife and Grover have been on very intimate terms for some time past and that he has had cause on several occasions to doubt her fidelity, and he varily believes they have eloped, and taken with them the fourteen dollars.

The story is not a very plausible one, but no doubt the prosecutor is honest in his convictions concerning the affair. If the parties have eloped the wife of Grover would perhaps know something about the affair, but it appears she has not been consulted in regard to it, and it is hardly possible that she would give her consent to such an arrangement. A warrant was issued for the accused, who it was thought by the prosecutor might be caught at the Union Depot last night on their way to the East.

Real Estate and Collecting Agency.

The real estate and collecting business in a large city like ours is a very important auxiliary, and one which, when properly conducted, cannot be over estimated or appreciated too highly. Messrs. Reed & Tusten, No. 87 Grant street, are largely engaged in this line, and although not a very long while in the business, have already succeeded in building up a generous patronage which is daily increasing, just in proportion as the public gain knowledge of their superior facilities. These gentlemen devote their exclusive time and attention to the interests of their patrons, and either in buying or selling real estate in city or or country endeavor to deal honorably and justly, meriting the confidence of both buyer and seller. They have always on their bulletin very desirable city property, farms and mineral lands, which those wishing to invest in real estate would do well to call and examine. The firm attend to the collection of all claims, bills, notes, book accounts, drafts, &c., on the most reasonable terms. From personal acquaintance with these gentlemen, we feel that we are warranted in commending them in most hearty terms to our readers.

Fatal Accident—Man Killed on the West Penna. Railroad.

Yesterday evening, about half-past four o'clock, as the mail train on the West Penna. Railroad was coming toward Allegheny, a man was discovered walking on the track about two hundred yards ahead of the engine. The train was just rounding a curve near Patterson's Station, about twenty-one miles from the city, when the man was first seen, and the engineer as soon as he perceived him, gave the usual signals for clearing the track, at the same time whistling down breaks. For some unaccountable cause the man paid no attention to the alarm, and the train, going at the rate of sixteen miles an hour, could not be checked in time to save him. He was struck by the cowcatcher and thrown off the track to one side, the force of the blow being such as to cause his death instantly. An examination of the body proved it to be that of Jas. P. McDowell, a well-to-do farmer, about forty-eight years of age and residing a short distance beyond the station. One arm was found to be broken in several places and the side of the face and head completely crushed. The remains were placed on board the train and taken back to the late residence of the deceased, where they were taken in charge by the friends. Coroner Clawson will hold an inquest on the body to-day.

Pure and Delicious Wines and Where to Purchase.

For many years the conniseurs in foreign and domestic wines and liquors have recognized the fact that nowhere else can they obtain rarer selection or purer articles than at the old established and first class house of William Miller, (late Miller & Ricketson,) Nos. 221 and 223 Liberty street, corner of Irwin. Enjoying first class facilities for direct importation from the principal and most famous foreign wine marts, their goods must necessarily be superior to any passing through second hands in our home ports. Their stock embraces all the most popular wines, such as Chateau Lafitti, Margaux, La Rose, St. Julien, Medoc, St. Jacques, Panillac, clear and sparkling Sherries, Haut Sauternes, Chateau Sauternes, Latour Blanche white wines, rich bodied Hock wines, beautiful sparkling wines of Hockheimer's superior quality, all the best brands of pure Champaigns, embracing the famous Moet & Chandon, Imperial, Vernezay, Chamblis, Chambertine, Espernay, Heidsieck and other brands. The firm have also on hand a fine assortment of general brandies, whiskies and fancy liquors. Their prices are as liberal as can be obtained from similar first class houses in the East, and we bespeak a continuance of the large share of patronage in this line hitherto directed to this old and reliable house.

Severely Injured.

On Monday evening about five o'clock, John Schweitzer, employed at Stamm & Co.'s chair factory, corner of Cherry and Strawberry alleys, met with a very serious accident. He was engaged at a circular saw, cutting a piece of plank in two, when one of the separated pieces was accidentally struck by a tooth of the saw, causing it to be thrown backward, striking the unfortunate man in the forehead and knocking him insensible. Dr. Walters was called in immediately and successfully performed the operation of trepanning, removing thirteen pieces of the skull bones, the patient being under the influence of chloroform. The injured man is unmarried and the only support of a widowed mother who resides in Birmingham. Dr. Walters thinks it possible that he will recover with careful treatment.

Amusements.

THE MINSTELS.—The Opera House was filled with a select and fashionable audience last night, to hear Carncross & Dixie's Minstrels. The olio or minstrel performance of the troupe is superior to any ever given in this city, and the varieties are unapproachable. Their entertainments are entirely different from those given by minstrel troupes generally, being free from the vulgar, gross and low jests so common with the profession. The company is composed of the most gentlemenly set of men, from Lew. Simmons to the other "end," we have ever met with in the show business. A complete change of programme will be made to-night. All fun-loving persons should remember that this is positively the last week of their stay.

Base Ball.

The Atlantics, of Brooklyn, arrived in this city yesterday morning, returning from their western tour. The anticipated match between them and the Allegheny failed to come off on account of the rain. They left for home on the five p. m. train. The Allegheny was beaten in the contest at Detroit on the fourth, the score standing at the close of the ninth inning, twenty-two for the Detroit and four for the Allegheny. It is probable that a return match will be played at Union Park in about ten days, at which the Allegheny boys hope to retrieve their lost laurels.

Victimized.

Several days since a gentleman, residing at Newark, Ohio, was made the "victim of misplaced confidence" to the amount of $95 at the Union Depot. He was about to leave the city on the train, when the "confidence" man came up to him and addressed him by name, and by means of the "bogus check" and the "freight dodge" obtained the money. The gentleman soon discovered that he had been duped, but was so heartily ashamed of his ignorance that he left the city without making the matter known, but told it confidentially to a fellow passenger.
